TABLES

01 Coffee Table - Elliot Hasse

The goal for the table was to find a light, unfinished wood to compliment the concrete top. I decided on oak hardwood to build out the base.

02 Sculptural Coffee Table
-Conor Coghlan

The two-inch thick saddle-shaped shell, also known as a hyperbolic paraboloid, is an extremely strong yet light structure making it perfect for use around the home.

03 Faux Bois Side Table -Brady Mitchell

The inspiration for my idea is based on how I've always loved the look of nature (tree trunk) being used for furniture.

04 Mixed Media Table -Shaun Bird

This maple, concrete and steel piece was my test subject, and really my first attempt at using concrete in my work.

UNIQUE

05 Bookends
-Steph & Vicki

06 Pencil Holder
-Elizabeth Park

07 Cake Stand & Trivet
-Leilani Carrasco

LIGHTING

08 Floating Lamp
-Pat Soriano

This was a lamp I designed in a furniture class that was inspired by Earth's bright core, vast forests and endless mountain ranges.

09 Pipe Lamp
-Seth Hunt

The lamp shade and base are custom formed from QUIKRETE® and connected by a metal pipe body. The final touch is a vintage style light bulb and cloth wiring to finish off the design.

10 Charging Nightstand
& Fitted Lamp
-Bobby Linn

For my project I decided to do a rustic modern nightstand/charging station with a cool color combination, so I used three different pigments.

11 Lamp of the Sea -Maria Mier

I wanted a lamp but at the same time I wanted a piece of art and have multiple purposes.

12 Outlet/USB Lamp -ML Klein

With two traffic cones, a lamp kit and electric/USB outlet, I made a lamp that makes charging phones/ tablets more convenient.

13 Rocket Lamp -David Cantu

This project was inspired by the cloud lamps that are all around Pinterest and Arnout Meijer Studio's minimalist launch desk lamp.

OUTDOORS

14 Fire Pit - Lyle Janicek

For the rock fire pits I utilized plastic containers of two different sizes, cooking spray, one bag of QUIKRETE®, non-flammable cobble rocks, a metal dish stacker and two gel fire fuel containers.

15 Wine Table -Mark Hanson

This was the first time I made a concrete counter top. I designed this little table with a space where wine bottle candle holders are held in the middle to add some visual interest.

16 Bird Bath -Jen Ashwell

I gathered everything to make this bird bath from around my garden shed and gave it to my sister as a present.

17 Bench - Sean Rubino

This is a bench with formed dovetail legs and a single board seat with pins to match the dovetails.

18 Faux Bois Stepping Stones
-Tamara Cutler

We wanted a unique look for our backyard path so we found a concrete mold online in three sizes for stepping stones in the shape of cut logs.

19 Patio Table
-Dale Herrmann

I've wanted to make this for awhile and this was the perfect time. I started with just this old pallet that I had saved.

VISONARY

20 Driftwood Candle Holder - Warren Ness

I wanted to create a piece of functional art that would keep the concrete the main focal point.

21 Woven Mat -Ananda

The geometric, modular design offers lots of creative variations to play with.

22 Candle Holder
-Maria Mier

Circular clock shaped candle holder with decorative tea lights.

23 Toilet Tank Sink - Mike Moyer

I used one bag of QUIKRETE® to make a "toilet tank top sink." When you flush the toilet, the fill water is re-routed to a faucet (don't worry, it's perfectly clean).

WINNER

24 Wine Rack
-Lyle Janicek

Portable wine racks. Not only do they hold and store wine, but they can be used in a variety of ways.

25 Dog Bowl - Mark Mangapora

The objective of this project was to replace a cheap, faux wrought iron dog bowl holder with something durable, solid, and modern.

26 Desk Chair - Mariano Garcia

I had an amazing experience creating this project and it can be recreated by anyone with ease. What makes my chair unique is its functionality, customization and use of materials.

27 Trivets

-Mark Mangapora

The clean lines of the form yet heaviness of the concrete compliment our minimalist and industrial style kitchen.

28 Headphones Stand - Dave Sandison

Headphones stand that fits small and XL headphones. Smaller headphones can fit on the two inch maple solid rod in front & larger headphones can fit on the very top, but also if you have two pairs they can both fit as well.
